Vintage lovers look to score second-hand gems at the Brisbane Showgrounds

Australia's largest thrift market is coming to the Brisbane Showgrounds this Sunday, for a sustainable second-hand shopping experience.

Fashion Thrift Society will feature more than 130 pre-loved, vintage and small business stalls with plenty of clothing, hand-made items, home decor and art.

The event will also include a DJ, food trucks, licensed 18+ bar, tooth gem and body piercing booth, henna tattoo artist and even a barber.

Fashion Thrift Society was created in Perth in 2021 and now tours the country as the largest thrift market in Australia.

The event is focussed on sustainable shopping and supporting small and local businesses.

Brisbane Showgrounds General Manager of Venue Sales and Marketing Jago Coyle said thousands of people are expected to attend the thrift market on Sunday.

"We've hosted the event since 2022 in one of our most popular venues Marquee 1, a large undercover space located in Sideshow Alley that can cater for the growing crowds," he said.

"We're thrilled to continue to support this fantastic event, with two more market days scheduled for June and November as part of the event's 2023 Australian tour."

Fashion Thrift Society runs from 10am to 3pm, with tickets still available online. Free entry will be granted from 2pm until close.

The Brisbane Showgrounds precinct is located 1.5km from Brisbane's CBD and is Queensland's largest indoor/outdoor events site. Visit www.brisbaneshowgrounds.com.au.
