20 September 2023

Listen Out set to heat up the Showgrounds for festival season

More than 35,000 people will bring high energy to the Brisbane Showgrounds this Saturday as Listen Out kicks off the start of our Spring/Summer music festival season.

The national dance music festival is bringing an energetic hip-hop/electronic line-up from across the globe including Skrillex, Lil Uzi Vert, Arrdee, Ice Spice, Coi Leray, Spinall, Kobie Dee and more.

The artists will perform across three stages located in several venue spaces at the Showgrounds including 909 in Marquee 1, PROPHET in Expo Place and the leading stage ATARI will be the star on the Main Arena.

Listen Out will be the first event of our Spring/Summer music festival season, with many more to come.

Brisbane Showgrounds General Manager of Venue Sales and Marketing Jago Coyle said the hugely popular event has been drawing festival fans to the Showgrounds since 2014.

"We've held some incredible events in the first half of the year and we're excited to kick off the music festival season with Listen Out once again," Mr Coyle said.

"The Brisbane Showgrounds is truly the home of the Sunshine State's music festivals, as we have a variety of indoor and outdoor spaces that set the perfect scene for any festival.

"There's an exciting line-up of music festivals to look forward to this season at the Showgrounds including Fridayz Live, Post Malone, Good Things, Wildlands NYE and Laneway Festival in the new year."

Listen Out kicks off this Saturday at midday, with tickets still available online.

The Brisbane Showgrounds precinct is located 1.5km from Brisbane's CBD and is Queensland's largest indoor/outdoor events site. Visit www.brisbaneshowgrounds.com.au.

Don't forget to follow us on social media @brisbaneshowgrounds