Sort your study at Australia's largest Tertiary Studies and Careers Expo

Are you interested in upskilling your education or seeking new career opportunities? Well make sure to check out the nation's largest Tertiary Studies and Careers Expo (TSXPO) this weekend at the Brisbane Showgrounds.

The 43rd annual TSXPO is a one stop shop for prospective students or those wishing to redirect their career to find out everything regarding the education and employment options on offer.

The Expo is expected to host thousands of high school students, parents, mature age and post-graduate students seeking guidance regarding available tertiary possibilities.

More than 100 exhibitors will feature, including Australia-wide and international universities, private education providers, TAFE institutes, graduate employment, Defence Force recruiting, student support services and employers.

Brisbane Showgrounds General Manager of Venue Sales and Marketing Jago Coyle said visitors would have the opportunity to attend free informative expert-led seminars, providing information on the wide range of study options, career opportunities and new trends in further education, training and employment available.

"This is a great opportunity for those students still unsure of what pathway they are wishing to pursue ahead of QTAC applications opening next month," Mr Coyle said.

"Current Student Ambassadors will be there alongside faculty representatives to discuss what student life at university looks like and what to expect from their chosen course."

Mr Coyle said the Brisbane Showgrounds was excited to host Australia's largest tertiary studies and careers expo and welcome more than a thousand Queenslanders to the Showgrounds precinct.

The TSXPO will be held this Saturday and Sunday (13-14 July) from 10am to 4pm at the Royal International Convention Centre at the Brisbane Showgrounds. Entry is free. For more information, visit TSXPO.

The Brisbane Showgrounds precinct is located 1.5km from Brisbane's CBD and is Queensland's largest indoor/outdoor events site. Visit www.brisbaneshowgrounds.com.au
