Brisbane's biggest indoor design market

Shop for winter wonders and woollies at The Made Local Market this weekend at the Brisbane Showgrounds.

The biggest indoor handmade and design market in Brisbane, The Made Local Market, will be held across Saturday and Sunday in the Exhibition Building.

It will showcase more than 120 makers, designers and artisan food producers from Brisbane, Queensland and northern New South Wales.

Enjoy browsing a wonderful array of handmade clothing, jewellery, ceramics, homewares, body products, kids' items, and artisan food and beverages.

This includes wearable art by Flowature, candles by Green Heart Boulevard, Gin by White Oat Distillery, handmade bags and creations by Moshki, drink bottles by Sinclo, and porcelain tableware by Hayden Youlley Design.

The market will also feature maker demonstrations, food trucks and stalls, live music, special giveaways and much more.

Brisbane Showgrounds General Manager of Venue Sales and Marketing Jago Coyle said it was exciting to see the event continue to grow in popularity since its first market in 2016.

"We have a thriving artisan and designer community in Queensland and there's no better time to support local creative businesses and kick-off your Christmas shopping, with all things handmade and one-of-kind at The Made Local Market," Mr Coyle said.

The Made Local Market will take place this Saturday (June 17) from 9am-4pm and Sunday (June 18) from 9am-3pm, entry is just $2 at the gate.

The Brisbane Showgrounds precinct is located 1.5km from Brisbane's CBD and is Queensland's largest indoor/outdoor events site. Visit www.brisbaneshowgrounds.com.au.
